Jewell Predicts Roads Will
Weaken and Settle Within Two Weeks

By Associated Press
Chicago—With immediate prospects for peace in the railway strike gone, strikers and railroads Thursday settled to a test of strength. The statement of Chairman Hooper of the Labor Board that the board no longer was engaged in peace negotiations left the situation open to direct negotiations between strike leaders and railway chiefs or attempts from other quarters.

Union officials remained firm in their demand that full seniority rights be restored to the 300,000 shopmen now on strike. Rail heads were equally firm in their insistence that seniority rights of men now at work be recognized. Fuel shortage is being felt by the railroads, supplies on several roads being nearly exhausted, according to officials. Curtailment of train operations, due to shortage of coal and equipment has gradually increased until 247 trains have been cancelled or are about to be cancelled, say representatives from railroad centers from the west.

The representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks declared that 85 per cent of the 3,000 clerks employed by the C. & N. W. would join the ranks of the strikers Thursday.

PREDICTS SETTLEMENT

B. M. Jewell, President of the six federated shopcrafts predicted Thursday that the railroads will capitulate and settle the strike within two weeks. The strike is becoming more effective daily he said, "and the roads will yield as soon as we bring them to their knees."

The railroad executives statements on the seniority question were characterized by Mr. Jewell as a "conceit designed to cover up the real issue—a national adjustment board."

The executive board of the striking unions will meet Thursday afternoon to consider and answer to the statement issued by the railroad officials Wednesday night.

NEW STRIKE THREATENS

A strike of 7,300 clerks on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad hung in the balance here Thursday, depending entirely upon the decision of General Manager Frank Walters to be announced when conference between the management and union officials resumed Thursday.

This statement was made by George A. Worrell, chairman of the Chicago and Northwestern clerks.

"We talked things over all day Wednesday," said Mr. Worrell, "discussing conditions as they are and as we think they should be. At the close of the conference Mr. Walters said he would debate on our proposition and then he would be able to answer us Thursday morning."

The situation on the Chicago and Northwestern, Mr. Worrell said, is different from that on any other road entering Chicago as "our men" averred Mr. Worrell, "have been denied vacation rights, half holiday on Saturday afternoon, time and one half pay for overtime and sick benefit. No other road in Chicago has cut off these gratuities."

Authorization for a strike unless an agreement is reached, has been given by Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald, Mr. Worrell said.

STRIKE SUMMARY

A conference between union head and road officials in Chicago was expected to avert a walk-out of 7,300 clerks on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

Railroad repair shops in the east are manned at nearly 60 per cent of normal, Secretary Walbur of the Bureau of Information of Eastern railways said in a statement issued at New York.

Restraining orders and injunctions looking to the protection of railroad property and operations were granted in a dozen or more cities.

Meanwhile continued disturbances at Pittsburg and Hoisington, Kansas, caused Governor Allen to issue authority for mobilization for the national guard.

An employee of the Atlantic Coast line at Lakeland, Fla., was given a coat of tar and feathers by 12 men and warned not to return to his work at the railroad shops.

At Ft. Worth, Texas a car inspector of the Texas and Pacific was lured from his home by a false report of a wreck, taken several miles into the country and flogged by unidentified men.

An attempt to assassinate a general yardmaster of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad and attacks on fire non-union men were reported from Sioux City, Ia.

PARLEY WITH RUSS AT HAGUE IS DISBANDED

Litvinoff's Proposal to Waive
Russian Claims for Credit-
it, Is Turned Down

The Hague—The Hague still was gasping Thursday over the sudden developments in the conference on Russian affairs Wednesday and the precipitate decision of the European delegates to terminate the gathering immediately, after Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Soviet delegation had offered to submit to Moscow the question of recognizing the validity of Russian pre-war debts and the principle of compensation for nationalized foreign property.

For a few minutes Wednesday a large section of the non-Russian representatives headed by the English seemed ecstatic over M. Litvinoff's proposal to waive Russia's claims for credits from European powers and seek instructions from the Moscow government on the tangled question of property rights of foreigners.

But when non-Russian met later without the Soviet representatives they immediately turned down Litvinoff's proposal and decided to snuff out the conference Thursday with the formal presentation of representatives from the sub-committees on credits, debts and foreign property confiscated in Russia.

BANKER SUBMITS PLAN FOR MARKETING CHEESE

Nellsville—At the annual picnic of the bankers of Clark-co. a proposition of T. B. Peterman, banker of Curtiss was endorsed, in regard to the standardization and marketing of Clark-co. cheese. Mr. Peterman's plan is to bring such cheese factories as will meet regulations, under the control of the state dairy department. In the way of sanitary regulations and testing milk, and then to brand the cheese so produced with a registered trade mark, which will certify to its extra quality. He would charge a higher price for such cheese.

National Army Reported in Heavy Attack on Flanks of Insurgents' Lines — Many Flee in Fear of Starvation.

By Associated Press
Dublin—Reports from the fighting area received Thursday indicate a pressure by the National army forces on each extremity of the insurgent line, developing powerfully and extending roughly from Limerick to Waterford thereby cutting off virtually the whole of Munster province.

An attack on Waterford was made by troops advancing from Kilkenny preceded by parties of engineers who removed the heavy obstructions in the road and reached the outskirts of Waterford Tuesday evening.

The Nationalists found the main part of the city cut off through the drawbridge over the river Suir being raised. The railway bridge was impassable and the troops opened the attack from the north side of the river with machine gun and rifle fire, while 18 pounders shelled the irregulars in the military barracks and the jail.

The reply from rifles and Thompson guns was feeble and it is believed the city is lightly held, but the natural strength of the position may make the dislodgement of the irregulars a matter of difficulty.

LAUNCH HEAVY ATTACK
At Limerick fighting was progressing Wednesday evening. The Nationalists launched a heavy attack on the O'Mara factory but as far as known the irregulars still are holding the position.

In the center of the city where the insurgents are strongly fortified the firing was particularly heavy. The casualties are estimated at 20 killed and 40 wounded. A considerable portion being civilians.

Belfast—Alarming accounts of the situation in Kings County or County Offaly, as it is now known, reached Belfast in dispatches Thursday. Tullamore and Birr are described as in a pitiable plight with those of their inhabitants who are able to do so taking flight in fear of starvation. One party which volunteered to go from Tullamore to some of the outlying villages to procure food and milk for the women and children was held up by the Republicans on the way back and the supplies were commandeered.

When the miners and operators get together again the nation's available coal supply will have been so far depleted that the operators will be assured of a high enough price for coal next winter and they will be able to pay the miners better wages. The inevitable result of a scarcity in any product is a higher price to the consumer. The strike has brought about the scarcity. Miners and operators will each profit by the situation in the end and the public will pay the bill. Officials freely admit this though they have already endeavored to regulate the price of coal. What the situation will be next winter however, is another question and there is no way by which the government can keep the price of coal down if the natural laws of supply and demand are permitted to operate.

TRY TO PLACE BLAME

Efforts to locate the responsibility for the continuance of the strike are bound to be made when congress gets into action. Senator Borah, Samuel Gompers and John L. Lewis are putting their heads together. The labor viewpoint is that Mr. Harding has fallen a victim for the strategy of certain operators and that if he had insisted upon getting all the representative operators of the union districts to Washington instead of what is termed a "hand picked group" chosen by A. M. Ogle, the deadlock wouldn't have occurred.

LEWIS IS BLAMED
Among the operators on the other hand one bears the charge that labor politics is at the bottom of the trouble and that John L. Lewis, president of the miners depends for votes on keeping the wages the same in the central competitive field irrespective of economic conditions which the operators say demands the opposite of uniformity. Until Lewis' hold on the unions is broken or until the operators show signs of breaking up, the early end of the strike may be said to be doubtful. Two days ago it looked as if a new conference might be called by President Harding. He is following out however, the plan of using troops as the operators requested. When that alternative is exhausted, a conference of the disputants is inevitable.

REPORTS INDICATE CROPS ARE GOOD

Milwaukee—Harvesting throughout Wisconsin was delayed by the heavy general rains, according to the weekly report of the weather bureau on Wisconsin crops, but was beneficial to pastures and meadows.

"Nights have been too cool for corn, which is only fair to good," the report stated. "Corn is tasseling in the extreme south. Winter wheat is good in most sections, and is being harvested in southern, central and western counties." Spring wheat is filling well, and is beginning to ripen in the extreme south. Oats is good to excellent and the harvest has begun. Rye is good to excellent and the harvest is well advanced. Barley is good and is beginning to turn.

Washington, D. C.—All hope of an immediate ending of the coal strike has vanished. A. M. Ogle, head of the National Coal Association has left Washington and President Harding, while cognizant of the various informal overtures which have emanated from the miners, is not yet determined upon any peace move.

The operators believe that with the help of the government they can break the strike and deal unionism a body blow. Until they are convinced of the accuracy or inaccuracy of their predictions nothing tangible can be expected in the way of peace negotiations.

Just as confident as the operators have been that if troops were to protect strike-breakers the mines could be operated are the union officials that not enough coal will be mined to avert a dangerous crisis for the nation next winter.

FILLED MILK LAW UPHELD BY STATE COURT DECISION

Prohibits Making of "Hebe" in Which Coconut Oil Is Used
For Butter Fat

Madison—The constitutionality of Wisconsin's filled milk law was upheld Thursday in a decision of the state supreme court.

The ruling was made in the suit of the Carnation Milk company manufacturers of "hebe" which contained coconut oil substituted for butterfat. In the decision which was written by Justice Charles H. Crohnhart, the court holds that the legislature is given the power to prohibit the sale of "filled milk" or other food products believed to be deleterious to the welfare and health of citizens of the state under the police powers of the constitution.

The reputation of Wisconsin as the leading dairy state is in danger, if the legislature cannot prohibit the manufacture of products which are below standard, the opinion points out.

"It was competent for the legislature," the court finds, "to find that the manufacture and sale of the compounds to fraud and deception, and likely to be injurious, to the public health."

Ford Plan Attacked In Committee Report

Senator Norris, Chairman of Senate Agriculture Committee,
Says Ford Did Not Agree
To Reduce Cost of Fertilizer.

Washington—In a comprehensive report submitted to the senate Thursday by Chairman Norris of the Senate Agricultural committee, Henry Ford's offer for the purchase and lease of the government's war-initiated projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, is condemned in unusually strong language, while the Nebraska senator's bill, proposing development of the properties under a government owned and controlled corporation, is described as "the most wonderful plan" that has ever been proposed in the history of the country.

On the question of the Ford bill, the report says, Senators Page, McNary, Keyes, Gooding, Norbeck, Harrell, and McKinley, Republicans and Kendrick, Democrat, concur with the chairman.

With reference to the government ownership proposal, the report gives the names of five senators, Norris, McNary, Gooding, Norbeck and McKinley, who favor its passage by the senate for the solution of the Muscle Shoals problem.

MINORITY OPINION
Because of this line-up of the committee, the report is characterized as a minority opinion insofar as it expresses approval of the government ownership bill but, is presented as a majority opinion insofar as it deals with the rejection of the committee of all proposals for Muscle Shoals development.

The Ford offer is dealt with in unsparing terms. Its adoption, the report says, would put "the government of the United States into business with a vengeance," adding that "those who ask congress to accept the Ford offer ask us, in effect, to lease this property to this corporation without any real consideration, and then in addition thereto, guarantee to repair and keep and maintain it in good condition for a period of one hundred years."

"It is difficult to harmonize our idea of Mr. Ford's fairness," the report continues, "with his silence on this subject, when his name is so often used in exaggeration and misrepresentation as to just what he does offer to do. The country has been given to understand that Mr. Ford has guaranteed to reduce the cost of fertilizer by one-half. He has done nothing of the kind. He has made no guarantee of any kind in the way of the reduction of the cost of fertilizer. The country has been given to understand that he pays the government 4 per cent interest on its investment in the two dams. He does nothing of the kind. He has not made any such offer and no such proposition is included in his bid. Giving his corporation credit for every dollar that it pays, he will be paying to the taxpayers less than 3 per cent on the money which he uses out of the treasury of the United States, and when we consider that this loan runs for one hundred years, it requires even the stretch of the imagination to understand the enormous profit that this corporation secures in this one item alone."

SELL ELECTRICITY
The report points out that electricity developed at Muscle Shoals should be furnished to municipalities at as near cost as possible and should be so distributed that all of the people both rich and poor would receive a proportionate benefit to the cheapening of electrical energy. That is the idea that the Norris bill seeks to accomplish, the report adds.

The document concludes with a detailed comparison between features of the Ford offer and those of the Norris bill and emphasizing what it describes as the great advantages the people will obtain from Muscle Shoals development under the latter proposal.

GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN TO REOPEN MINES

Executive of North Carolina Is Only One Failing to

GROESBECK IS IN PARLEY J. L. Lewis, Miners' Head, Refuses Union Permission To Operate Mines

By Associated Press
Lansing, Mich.—Gov. Groesbeck, in a telegram to President Harding Thursday, asked the sanction of the federal government for a plan to take over and operate Michigan coal mines under state control. The message asked whether the federal government would join with the state in taking over and directing resumption of operations in the mines.

The governor's decision to seek federal approval of his proposal was reached after a day and night spent in unsuccessful efforts to bring about agreement between the miners and operators in the Saginaw coal district. It followed defeat of two proposals he offered the miners and operators.

The first was that Michigan miners be allowed to adjust their differences and return to work independent of their national affiliations, which was refused by John L. Lewis, International head of the mine workers. The second was the refusal of the miners themselves to throw the weight of their endorsement into his plea for separate peace in Michigan.

HAVE NO GRIEVANCES
The governor's personal investigation and conference at Saginaw Wednesday showed, he declared, that neither the workers nor employees have any minor grievances and that the men are out only because workers in other states are out. It showed also he said that there is no feeling in the district.

He believes, he said, that the state could man and operate the mines—chief producing ones at least—and that the miners, if offered the opportunity and were able to do so without risking outlay from their organization, would be glad to return to work.

It was intimated Thursday that if the necessary authority to proceed with his plan is accorded, the entire resources of the state police and national guard would be thrown into the work of producing coal in event the miners declined to return to work.

LEWIS AGAINST MOVE
Failing in his endeavor to gain the permission of J. L. Lewis, International head of the miners union for a square settlement of the strike in Michigan, the governor sought throughout the night to convince operators and miners here that such a step would have no bearing on the situation outside the state and that action would go a long way toward averting industrial paralysis in Michigan.

The operators were reported to be willing to reopen the mines and submit the wage controversy to arbitration but representatives of the miners rejected the proposals as contrary to the wishes of their union heads.

Wednesday night the governor declared Michigan mines "are not going to remain closed." It was generally believed he had at that time mapped out a definite course to be followed in event of failure of his conference here.

Washington—Advised that Governor Groesbeck of Michigan contemplated state operation of the coal mines, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, Thursday said:

"If the governor of Michigan desires to employ any coal miners in connection with his efforts to operate mines in Michigan, he will find that the state, like any other employer, first has to make satisfactory arrangements with the United Mine Workers."

Federal officials declined to discuss the governor's course but were frankly puzzled by his announced intention to ask sanction of the federal government to take Michigan under state control. By generally followed legal precedent it was said state authority in regulating and controlling the actual mining of coal has been held paramount.

In 1919 Governor Allen of Kansas put several mining properties in the hands of a receiver under an agreement with the owners, while volunteer workers and state troops protection kept them operating until a strike was ended by a national arrangement. The action is considered here to be a precedent under which any state can act.

LAKE SHIPPING BEING HIT BY LACK OF COAL

Coal Receipts in Milwaukee
Fall Two Thirds Below
Those of Last Week

Milwaukee—Coal shipments by water throughout Wisconsin according to indications here will practically halt in two or three weeks unless immediate changes in the situation take place.

Coal receipts at the Milwaukee docks have this week fallen two-thirds below last week's receipts and the fuel shortage is rapidly reducing the number of coal carrying vessels according to Walter J. Fitzgerald, local ship broker.

Only three boats have unloaded coal here so far this week, their collective cargoes being 23,000 tons while last week twelve boats unloaded approximately 78,000 tons of bituminous coal. The Great Lakes Coal and Dock Company expected the steamer Capt. Thomas Wilson Thursday. It was said that she is only carrying two-thirds of her regular cargo of fuel.

Little fear of a coal shortage for the regular liners was held by local steamship offices but it was said that tramp steamers found it almost impossible to obtain fuel at the western lake ports.

Fuel dealers have started laying in large supplies of wood, according to J. J. Bloomer, secretary of the traffic division of the Association of Commerce. He said there was no anthracite coal in Wisconsin. The situation according to J. J. Egan, president of the Wisconsin Public Utilities association shows little promise of improvement.

WEISSGERBER TO TALK NUMBERING

Chamber of Commerce Indorses Plan to Renumber Houses and Rename Streets

Oscar F. Weissgerber, city engineer, will address the community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce at a meeting Friday afternoon on the proposed renumbering of houses and renaming of streets. He will explain the difficulties growing out of the present designations and will enlighten the committee on the plans the city has in mind.

So many requests for the renumbering reached the chamber of commerce in its recent questionnaire that the community welfare committee is making this one of the major activities in its program for the year.

The chamber has given its indorsement to the change in numbering, and to the renaming of streets according to Secretary Hugh G. Corbett. The organization also favors the placing of conspicuous and artistic signs at all intersections giving the names of streets for the guidance of strangers.

Any cooperation the city may ask of the chamber of commerce in carrying out the changes will be given, Mr. Corbett says.

PROHIBITION CUTS DOWN ON POVERTY

New York—Prohibition has been a big factor in cutting down poverty in families, according to statistics just issued by the American Association for Organizing Family Social Work of New York and the Boston Family Welfare Society. In ten of the 17 cities listed however, there were more families under care during the "dry year" than in the "wet" year.

Mrs. William T. Tilton, chairman of the Boston society, declares that figures in the survey which she conducted, prove that there has been a reduction of 85 per cent in the poverty of the families under partial enforcement," she continued "are significant of what was expected when the dry law is properly enforced. They are not just statistics, but they represent human beings made happier by the absence of intoxicants from their lives."

New York City, according to the figures has shown a reduction of 64 per cent the years used being 1917 and 1921. Rochester's reduction is 81 per cent. Newburgh 89. St. Louis 94. Chicago 88. Boston 91. Pawtucket 94. Atlantic City 82. Newport, R. I. 83. Portland, Me. 95. Cleveland 84. La Crosse, Wis. 91. Portland, Ore. 80 percent increase. Hartford, Conn. 83. Washington, D. RUSSIA HAS LACK OF BABY CARRIAGES

Petrograd—The sunshine of summer makes evident Russia's lack of baby carriages. There are no trim nurses wheeling babies along the park paths, and only rarely is a perambulator seen at all.

"Thousands of babies, out for an airing, are carried in their mother's arms. Occasionally one sees semi-Oriental women from the steppes and Turkistan with their infants strapped across their backs, like American Indian papooses.

Russian babies of the peasant type die by thousands in the hot summer and their tiny bodies know few or none of the cooling comforts of screened and shady porches. The use of ice for keeping milk is practically unknown.

But thousands of the hardy little infants go wherever their mothers do, seem to sleep contentedly on their mothers' breasts in the crowded box cars or under dripping eaves on rainy days when the parents lie huddled bundles of rags in the shelter of buildings.

Fill Fuel Bin With Coal From C. & N. W. Track

Quite a few householders in the Third ward got a little start on Old Man Winter late Wednesday afternoon when they attacked a long pile of coal along the Northwestern railroad tracks and carted the fuel home in every kind of conveyance. Railroad employees tried to protect the coal but had mighty little success.

ARTERIAL HIGHWAY SYSTEM AT NEENAH

Traffic on Commercial-st. Will Have Right of Way Over Cross Streets

A safety measure was adopted by the Neenah common council when it passed an ordinance designating Commercial-st. as an arterial highway with a 45 minute parking rule. Under the arterial highway plan vehicles must be brought to a dead stop before crossing north or south Commercial-st. within the prescribed limits except at the intersection of Wisconsin-ave. where at busy times a traffic officer will be on duty.

The ordinance passed specifically designates North Commercial-st. from Wisconsin-ave. to Nicolet-blvd. and South Commercial-st. from Wisconsin-ave. to Winneconne-ave. but leaves the Wisconsin-ave. intersection in a "neutral zone," which means that cars do not have to come to a full stop before crossing Commercial-st.

Vehicles, however, will not be allowed to reverse their course at the busy intersection, the ordinance provides. Parking on North Commercial-st. is also limited to a period of 45 minutes and applies to the entire length of the street from Wisconsin-ave. to Nicolet-blvd.

Placing of signs will begin at once. An addition to the ordinance was asked to prohibit vehicles from crossing the line of traffic when turning from Commercial onto Wisconsin-ave. Consideration of the amendment was postponed.

LITTLE POVERTY IN CITY, REPORT SHOWS

Only Ten Inmates in City Home and Five Are Not Supported by City

There is very little bitter poverty in Appleton, it is seen from the annual report of Joseph Shaaky, overseer at the city home, to the state board of control, for the year ended June 30. There were at that time but 10 inmates in the city home, five of which were county and town charges or were paying for their own board. Since July 1, another aged couple has been admitted, however, according to J. G. Pfeil, poor commissioner, and a few more applications have been received.

On July 1 of last year there were eight males and three females. In the course of the year eight more males and two more females were received. Five male and two female inmates were discharged and four male persons died, leaving, at the end of the year, seven male and three female inmates. One of these was a child below five years and eight were persons above the age of 60 years.

Husband Helped in Housework. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Strong

Foster, Oregon.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the small of my back. They bothered me so badly that I could do my work only with the help of my husband. One day he saw the ad. in our paper, telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for women, so I began to take it. It has helped me wonderfully. I am feeling fine, do all my housework and washing for seven in the family. I have been irregular too, and now am all right. I am telling my friends what it has done for me and am sure it will do good for others. You can use this letter as a testimonial. I will stand up for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound any time."

Mrs. Wm. J. HUNKE, Foster, Oregon.

Doing the housework for a family of seven is some task. If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irregularities, are easily tired out and irritable, or have other disagreeable ailments caused by some weakness, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Let it help you.

Dying Father Is Searching For His Children

A dying father who has life insurance to leave behind has written George T. Prim, chief of police, to locate his three children supposed to be living in Appleton. The man is Chauncey Weyenberg, who is suffering from tuberculosis at San Francisco, Calif.

The oldest boy, about 32, is named Roy; the next Lionel and the youngest Clair. Their last address known to Mr. Weyenberg was Appleton, where two of the children are understood to have been attending school. The mother married a second time, but her name is not known to her first husband.

"I am liable to die soon from tuberculosis of the lung," Mr. Weyenberg writes "I have some life insurance and I want to locate my children so I may leave it to them."

An effort has been made by Chief Prim to identify the family. There are several residents of this locality named Weyenberg, but none seems to know the San Francisco man or the children he names. Anybody who can assist in the identification is asked to communicate with the police station.

ORDER ENGINEER TO GET ESTIMATES ON TWO BRIDGES

City Engineer is Getting Closer to Building Bridges Across Fox River

The first official step of the common council in attempting to solve the Appleton bridge problems was taken Wednesday evening in the regular council meeting, when that body accepted the report of the street and bridge committee instructing the city engineer to obtain estimates on a semi-level bridge at Lawest, and a viaduct at Cherry st.

The committee and members of the council viewed the Lawest bridge site the afternoon before in order to arrive at a settlement on the type of bridge that ought to be built here. The level agreed upon is 12 feet above the old level on the north side and 3 feet above the roadway on the south side. The action of the council was unanimous, 10 of the 12 aldermen being present at the meeting.

The police department will soon be provided with a new police car and a motorcycle, for the council authorized the purchase of a seven-passenger Cadillac from the J. T. McCann Co. at the price of $3,350. O. B. Appleton, and a Harley-Davidson motorcycle from J. D. D. from the Wagner Motor cycle shop for $390. The amount to be allowed on the old police car is $630 and that on the old motorcycle $200. The special committee, headed by J. A. Wood, which recommended the purchase of these vehicles considered the advice of Chief Prim that only a high powered police car would meet the needs of the department.

ATLANTIC SEWER CONTRACT

R. J. Wilson company having the lowest bid for digging of sewers on Fairview-st. from Second to Lennox sts. and on Mueller-st. from Second to Lennox, the company was awarded the contract. Hoffman Construction company was awarded the contract for constructing a 100 foot concrete culvert at South River-st. their bid of $16,500 per lineal foot being low. Purchase of 2500 lawn mowers was also ordered.

The city engineer's plans and specifications for improvement of Erb-st. from Second-ave. to Brewster-st. were accepted and the work ordered done. Five abutting properties are to be assessed. Plans and specifications for paving of Lake-st. between the North-western tracks and the West canal were also accepted and advertising for bids was ordered. The same action was taken on pricing the alley adjoining the city hall. The council also accepted plans and specifications for digging sewers on Eighth-st. between Mason and Outagamie sts. and on Benoit-st. from Eighth-st. 150 feet south. Proposals will be advertised for.

HEAR BAND BETTER

A canvas canopy for purposes of acoustics was ordered purchased for the band at the request of the bandmaster. The council refused to grant a license to a racecoat peddler on the grounds that such action would be unfair to the local merchants. Bad bargains made with these peddlers. It was pointed out by Alderman Wood that it was pointed out by Alderman Wood and Haseman, can seldom be rectified, while local merchants are required to make good any faulty merchandise.

A petition for investigation of backwater conditions on Appleton-st. near Atlantic-st. was referred to the committee on streets and bridges. The proposition of opening Story-st. from Gilmore-st. to Second-ave. and regarding Story-st. from Gilmore-st. to Second-ave. was referred to the same committee. A request for funds for relief of tornado sufferers in northern Wisconsin was referred to the finance committee.

ONE SMALLPOX CASE IS FREED FROM QUARANTINE

One of the two smallpox cases in Appleton was released from quarantine Wednesday by Dr. W. C. Felton, health commissioner. Both cases were from Oklahoma-ave. and had been contracted in Oshkosh.

One of the parties quarantined, an elderly woman, was very much disturbed by the news item coming from Oshkosh in which the Appleton families were criticized for entering a home quarantined for typhoid. Dr. Broche, health officer of Oshkosh, informed Dr. Felton that the Oshkosh patient was in position to spread smallpox at the time the Appleton residents visited the Oshkosh home, but the health department had not been informed.

It was stated at Oshkosh that the smallpox case there had at first been wrongly diagnosed and had been quarantined for typhoid fever at the time the Appleton persons visited the home. Both Appleton parties deny, however, that there was any placard on the Oshkosh home. One of the parties returned to Oshkosh a week after the first visit and, finding a smallpox placard on the house, did not enter. It was said, typhoid fever is not a quarantined disease, Dr. Felton said, and there are no restrictions to be placed on other members of the family in which a case exists.

Hard To Live On $2,600 A Year If There Is Sickness

According to another reader of the "Can we manage on $2,600 a year?" letters, it can and it cannot be done, depending on the way in which one lives. She describes the circumstances under which it can be done, but again comes in the question: "Is that living comfortably?"

Dear Sir:
I have been watching the letters on "Can you live on $2,600 a year." You can and you cannot. There are two ways of living; everyone will admit that without argument. You can live on $2,600 a year if you do like they used to years ago. Keep the children out of school at 11 years and make them earn their own living. You cannot go to shows, have a car or call a doctor, for he will surely keep you guessing about money for that month. A 20 minute call from a doctor costs from $4 to $5 including 24 to 30 pills, I know because that is what they charge us. Unless the city will call a doctor for its people, do not call one but pray to the Lord to save your loved one. They cannot charge for that. You must plan on $450 a year for groceries, $350 for rent and $120 for meat each year. Meat has not come down very much that I can see. You must have $100 for each child. We have three children. Then there is $300 for the children, at least $20 a year for light, $50 for gas. It takes from $400 to $500 for a man and wife a year. Those are only a few of the things. That does not allow for a doctor bill, nor for any company nor for extra help to do your work.

A. Worker.

NEW DINING ROOM IN SHERMAN HOUSE

"Held in the Blue room of the Sherman house."
This statement in connection with dinners probably will be heard frequently from now on, as the beautiful appointed small dining room at the Sherman house christened the "Blue room" has been completed and is ready for use.

Decorations carried out in French design give the room a delightful but restful atmosphere. Ornamental plaster in old ivory finish adorns the ceiling, with panels in light blue, and an inset square in the center. The walls are supplied in soft brown with a suggestion of blue, and large panels on the side walls also are bordered in ivory plaster.

Two large center panels on the north and south walls contain art tapestries resembling oil paintings. A panel of similar size on the east has a bevel plate mirrored about six feet square, with circular top.
The room was designed by John Conway, owner of the hotel and embodies a harmony of color and ornamentation that is highly pleasing. The chamber is made out of two sample rooms, is about 20 feet square and will seat a maximum of 24 persons. It fills a demand for a place for smaller parties, which the hotel lacked when the French room was enlarged.

Employees of the hotel arranged a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Conway the day the room was finished. They prepared a dinner in the Blue room, and after informing the couple the other dining rooms were filled, ushered them in to enjoy the first meal in the artistic surroundings. The first party held there was on Tuesday evening, when Harry Miller of Green Bay entertained about 20 friends.

NEW STAMPS AVAILABLE HERE IN FIVE MONTHS

Postmaster William H. Zuehlke has been notified by the United States postal department that a new special delivery stamp is to be issued. The stamps will not be available, however, until the present supply of special delivery stamps of the 1922 issue has been exhausted. An issue was placed on sale last week at the Division of Stamps, Washington, for the benefit of stamp collectors and dealers. The stamps will be available in Appleton in about five months.

The design of the new stamp is in keeping with the general progress of the times. It shows the front of a colonial residence with a motorcycle parked against the curb and a special delivery messenger delivering a letter. In addition to the words "Special Delivery" and "United States Postage" and the numerals "10" of the present

TO PROVE THAT HUNDREDS HERE HAVE DONE MORE THAN MERELY INDORSE TRUTONA

To Say "I Recommend This Medicine" Doesn't Half Express Sentiments, Countless Local People Have Declared—Statements Fully Teem With Gratitude For Relief Famous Tonic Has Given Them From Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Anaemia, Stomach, Back and Head Pains, Constipation, Blood Disorders, Dizziness, Body Weakness.

It is a recognized fact that local statements—testimonials from residents of YOUR OWN HOME TOWN about whose identity there can be not the slightest doubt—is the best evidence in the world that can be submitted in behalf of a medicine or product of any kind. The mere indorsement (I recommend it) is the usual expression. But hundreds of Appleton people have declared that this doesn't half express their gratitude for benefits Trutona has given them. To be brief, local people do not merely indorse Trutona—they marvel over the benefits it has given them—their words abound with gratitude for their relief, many frankly admitting that they cannot find words to give Trutona the praise it deserves.

We want to prove the above assertions to YOU! The following statements from well-known and respected Appleton residents leave no room for doubt. And they are typical of the grateful and heartfelt praise which hundreds in your city and vicinity have awarded Trutona.

"I was a total wreck and what Trutona did for my poisoned, rundown system actually exceeded my expectations—I feel as fine as I ever did in my life now," says L. W. Butler, Appleton resident of 383 North-st.

"It's simply remarkable the relief Trutona gave me from stomach and kidney trouble and I certainly do not hesitate to recommend it to anyone suffering as I did," says Anton Del-schel, 975 Jefferson street, Appleton.

Hundreds of local people have praised Trutona in the same enthusiastic strain as do the above well-known residents. Trutona will do the same for YOU! RUSS DEBT REFUND TO BE CONSIDERED AT HAGUE PARLEY

New Proposals Are To Be Made by Delegation Representing Russia

By Associated Press
The Hague—New proposals in connection with compensation for confiscated property and payment of the Russian debt were advanced by the Russian delegation at a meeting Wednesday with the entire non-Russian commission of the conference on Russian affairs here.

The Russians suggested an arrangement by which Russia would undertake to negotiate directly with foreign governments for the payment of compensation for confiscated property and bonds held for settlement of the Russian debt.

It was proposed that all the delegations including the Russian submit this project to their respective governments and await an answer for one week at The Hague. The Russians for the time being dropped the question of credits as they said, the others had declined credits. It was announced that the non-Russian representatives will not be allowed to discuss the proposal, Russia, her representatives said, would engage to make arrangements with foreign claimants within two years.

ITALIANS SEEKING OTHER NEW FIELDS

Rome—Three hundred thousand yearly was once the average number of Italian emigrants to the United States. Since Washington has taken restrictive immigration measures, however, this exodus has had to seek other fields.

In March of this year 10,120 went to France; 5,244 to Belgium and a total of 4,170 to Luxembourg, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and the Balkans. During the same month only 4,337 Italians emigrated to both North and South America, the United States getting 967.

THE STAGE

"Man from Home" a Big Hit.

It is seldom that a picture receives so many comments as the patrons of Fischer's Appleton have given "The Man from Home." The story is taken from the stage play of the same name in which William Hodge scored his greatest success. The dramatization for the screen has been handled admirably, and George Fitzmaurice has outdone himself on the production.

The greater part of the picture was taken in Europe and actual scenes that were so graphically told in the novel have been made in Italy. The scenic splendor is indescribable and gorgeous gowns worn by principals surpass a fashion show revue. Today at 2:30 and 7 and 9 will be the last chance to see this extraordinary production.

Starting Friday Wm. S. Hart in "Travelin' On" will be the feature. This is the picture that was advertised for exhibition last week but which failed to arrive. On Saturday as an added feature for one week "Mahendra" and his troupe of assistants will entertain in Crystal Ball gazing and Mind Reading. Two other Vaudeville acts will be on the bill. Sunday feature Mary Miles Minter in "The Heart Specialist".

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Korth and Mrs. Elvira Kipp autored to Sturgeon Bay Sunday to visit the cherry pickers camp. They returned Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Wilch and son Dennis left Thursday for their home in Geneva, Ohio, after a two weeks' visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. Timm, 810 Rankin-st. Mrs. Johanna Wuerger accompanied her as far as Racine where she will visit friends and relatives. The trip was made by automobile.

ASK "Y" TO HELP IN RELIEF DRIVE

State Committee Seeks Contributions to Help Sufferers in Wisconsin Cyclone

Urgent appeal has been made to the Y. M. C. A. here by W. S. Heddes, Madison, to assist in raising $500,000 in Wisconsin for relief of families left destitute by a recent cyclone in northwestern Wisconsin. Mr. Heddes is chairman of a committee appointed by Gov. John F. Elaine to raise the needed funds and the money is to be handled through the state treasurer, Henry Johnson.

Pictures accompanying the letter show farm buildings and houses razed by the tornado. It is explained that this is one of the worst cyclones experienced in the state, and that most of the families were recent settlers who had nothing but their buildings and stock and now are left destitute.

The plan is to assist each in rebuilding his home and provide him with enough stock so he may resume farming. Contributions may be made at the Y. M. C. A. office. The appeal was not made sooner, Mr. Heddes says, because the committee had to check up the damage accurately in order to determine the amount to be raised.

MAXON IS PUT ON 5 YEAR PROBATION

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Lator must not touch the lips of Glenway Maxon, Jr., nor must his hands touch the wheel of a pleasure automobile for five years under penalty of a prison term. Maxon was at the wheel of an automobile which struck the motorcycle of Frank Fehlinger, known as the "fast side giant" Dec. 22, 1920, resulting in Fehlinger's death. He was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to five years in the prison at Green Bay in Nov., 1921. Appeal was taken to state supreme court, which upheld the sentence. Maxon has not served a day of his sentence nor will he if he can refrain from drink and pleasure automobiles for he was placed on probation Wednesday by Judge A. H. Reid. Wausau, sitting in municipal court.

Take Out 15 Pounds Of Appendixes In Hospital

Less than 15 pounds of appendixes have been removed at St. Elizabeth hospital in 1921. Not bad, you say? You thought there were more than that. Well, just how many do you think that is? Figuring that an average appendix weighs a half ounce, the 461 appendixes which were removed weighed something over 14 pounds.

By far the greatest number of surgical operations which are taking place now are those for tonsils. The hospital records show that 739 tonsillectomies were performed during 1921. Judging from the size you imagine your tonsils to be when they are in your throat and from the size you imagine the cavities to be when you have had "the darn things" out, that ought to mean several bushels of tonsils.

BUBONIC PLAGUE EARLY IN CHINA

Amoy, China—The bubonic plague which usually breaks out in South Fukien during June made its appearance this year in April. It has already claimed victims by the thousands, especially in the interior districts where public health receives little or no attention. There the people are ignorant and know no precautions or remedies save superstitious rites and customs.

In Amoy the foreign health officers, schools, local Young Men's Christian Association and Boy Scouts are doing every thing in their power to prevent the spread of this deadly, instructive lantern lectures are given in public places by the Young Men's Christian Association, and the Boy Scouts make excursions to villages in the district distributing pamphlets on the plague, its cause and prevention.

DUKE OF YORK TO HELP DEMOCRACY

Promotes Better Feeling Between School and Working Young Men

London—The Duke of York, second son of the king, will repeat this year the experiment he made last year for what has been called "the encouragement of anabocracy and the encouragement of democracy."

So thorough an understanding was then established between boys from Westminster School and boys from a Welsh steel works, following a football match, that a summer camp was set up by the Duke to encourage good feeling between boys of different social status. Two hundred public school boys with an equal number from congested and industrial areas were invited to share the camp.

The selection of the boys and the arrangements for the camp this year are in the hands of the Industrial Welfare Society, of which the Duke of York is president, but beyond that the society will have nothing to do with the project.

In order that the boys meet on terms of perfect equality cricket, football and kindred games will not be played because it is felt that public school boys, having more opportunities for practice, would hold an average over the other boys at such games.

4. The Chifolia inside counter pocket is of great value, for it saves the wear on the socks. There is no rough surface to rub against.
5. "FOOT-FITTER" heels are 1/4-inch longer than generally used. They give additional support to the arch and increase the comfort and wear of the shoe.

PROPOSES SIMPLE NUMBERING PLAN TO CITY COUNCIL

Engineer Would Establish System of 100 Numbers in Every Block

Kaukauna—The plan for house numbering in Kaukauna preparatory to free mail delivery, which was presented before the city council at its meeting Tuesday evening by F. M. Charlesworth, Jr., was one which is being adopted by numerous cities successfully. According to the plan the city is to be divided into four quarters, the river forming one dividing line and Lawest on the north side and Main-ave. on the south side, forming the second dividing line.

Beginning at the river on the north side each block will be numbered by 100, thus the buildings from the bridge to Wisconsin-ave. will be numbered between 100, from Wisconsin-ave. to Doty-st. will be the 200 block, from Doty-st. to Sarah-st. will be 300 and so on.

Buildings on streets east and west across Lawest, will be numbered in the same manner. The buildings in the first block west of Lawest will be numbered between 100 and 200 and will be addressed thus: John Jones, 101 Wisconsin-ave. west. On the streets running east of the dividing line the same thing will be done. Numbers will mount by 100 in each block.

The same plan will work on the south side of the river. From the new electrical building to Second-st. will be considered the 100 block, from Second-st. to Third-st. will be 200 and so on up. Going east on Second-st. the houses will be numbered from 100 to 200 and the same will be done on Second-st. going west.

Mr. Charlesworth also recommended that certain streets on the south side be named the same in order to eliminate confusion. In cases where the street turns slightly it has been given a different name. If the proposed plan is adopted Dodge-ave. probably will be made part of Third-st.; Dixon-ave. will be a continuation of Fourth-st.

The matter of changing the names of streets on the north side to numbered streets also was suggested but did not prove popular. It would, however, greatly relieve confusion if the streets were named First-st., Second-st., Third-st., and so on instead of Wisconsin-ave., Doty-st. and Sarah-st. Then if the house one wished to find was 440 Fourth-st. it could be easily found by walking to the 400 block on the dividing line and then four blocks along Fourth-st. since the number would indicate that the house was four blocks from the dividing line.

The committee on public grounds and buildings, to which the plan has been referred, will meet next Tuesday evening with the engineer to discuss the plan and will make a report at the next council meeting Tuesday, August 1.

MANY RUSSIANS ARE INOCULATED

Moscow—What will probably stand for some years to come as a record in the inoculation against five of the most widespread and most fatal of epidemic diseases is now in progress throughout Russia as a part of the program of the Medical Division of the American Relief Administration. Ten million individuals are to be inoculated before that program is completed to give them immunity against typhoid, paratyphoid, a paratyphoid, b. cholera and small pox.

An order for 451,000 ampules of neo-salvarsan is now in process of delivery. The drug is being used as a specific against relapsing fever, otherwise known as recurrent typhus, which is widely prevalent in the famine district.

RUSS MIGHT ABOLISH PENALTY OF DEATH

Moscow—The death penalty as a permanent institution has been eliminated from the code of laws approved by the All Russian Central Executive Committee. But as a temporary measure, in case of a counter revolution, the revolutionary tribunals are authorized to inflict it under such terms as the committee decides it is no longer necessary. Under the new code terms of imprisonment may be from six months to ten years; the previous limit was five years.

Nevertheless the death penalty is being frequently imposed throughout Russia today by military and civil revolutionary tribunals. In one day ten persons were shot at Yaroslavl for robbery of Red Army supplies while three peasants were condemned to be shot at Simbirsk for stealing seed grain intended for planting.

PLENTY OF EATS IS ASSURED BOY SCOUTS IN CAMP

Culinary Expert is Engaged to Cater to Stomachs of Active Boys

At last it has been learned why boy scouts are anxious to go to summer camp at Onaway Island this year. Of course, the varied recreational program of athletic sports, tracking, boating, fishing has its appeal, but that isn't the only attraction by any means. Youth will be served and so will a boy's stomach. As a lad with a lean and hungry look and an insatiable appetite should feast his eyes on the announcement that one of the best culinary experts in the north-west has been obtained for the four weeks at camp.

Mrs. M. Grant is an artist in her line and understands to perfection the science of preparing delectable dishes that will tickle the palate of the most inveterate dyspeptic. She has fed and filled college boys at Carleton college and Hamline university for a number of years and every one knows the capacity of college boys' appetites. None less than the Appleton scout executive was her star boarder for four years and that is reference enough for any one.

SOME COMPLIMENT

"She made me what I am today," said Mr. Buck with pride as he slipped his lower chest and rose to the full height of his ponderous dignity. "I am going to have enough to eat," he told a little scout, "and if I am, you certainly will."

The scouts need not think that they are going to a tea party, the executive said. None of those dainty tidbits and things you don't even know the name of. This cook prepares wholesome food in the best way it can be prepared, it was pointed out. Parents may rest assured that their boys will get a well-balanced and well-cooked menu.

The following is a typical menu in camp:

Breakfast
Oranges or stewed fruit.
Cereal and fresh milk.
Eggs fried or boiled—three times a week.
Fried bacon or fried bread in egg.
Batter—three times a week.
Coffee—every morning.
Bread and pancakes, with butter—daily.

Dinner
Meat—two week days.
Fish—one week day.
Poultry—Sunday.
Vegetables—every day.
Pie, pudding, or cake—week day.
Ice cream, melons—Sunday.

Supper
Stewed meats or fish.
Rice or macaroni.
Tea.
Hot biscuits or corn cake with syrup.
Fruit dessert or cake.
And the entire cost of board in camp will be but $85.50 a week. This includes cost of transportation. A scout leader will act as steward for the camp. But that does not mean that there is anything to prevent a scout from helping himself to bread and butter as often as he wishes between meals. Just like at home.

BUSINESS ON GAIN ALL OVER COUNTRY

Chamber of Commerce Summary Shows Healthy Condition of Trade in U. S.

Further improvement in business conditions all over the country is seen by the chamber of commerce here in a bulletin received from the chamber of the United States summarizing the situation up to June 1. There were distinct gains in volume and stability in such industries as steel and iron. Building contracts in northeastern states increased $10,000,000 in one month. Automobile production jumped from 197,221 passenger cars in April to 231,669 in May. Textile mills did a larger business. An upward trend in prices also has been noted. The index figure taking 100 per cent in 1913 as normal shows that prices in wholesale markets rose recently from 143 per cent basis to 148, indicating a firmer demand for goods. Stock exchange and federal reserve banking transactions also indicate a healthy trend.

TWO COUNTIES TO GRADE LAKE RD.

Chamber of Commerce Takes Up Negligence With Two Highway Commissioners

Autoists soon will have little occasion to find fault with the condition of Lake road, south of the city to Waverly beach and the summer resorts, because the highway commissions of Winnebago and Calumet counties have ordered their patrolmen to restore a smooth driving surface. This road, because of its maintenance jointly by two counties whose county seats are distant, has not had the attention Appleton people would have wished. The chamber of commerce took up the matter last year through J. J. Plank, chairman of the road and bridge committee, and both counties agreed to keep the highway in good condition.

Patrolmen kept their promise all last summer, but overlooked the road again this spring. John G. W. Calumet, highway commissioner, and James Binning, Winnebago co. highway commissioner, were informed by the chamber of commerce of this fact and letters came promptly from both men thanking the local men for calling attention to the neglect, and assuring immediate resumption of patrolling on this road.

Recent storms had made the highway so rough that driving was difficult, and those going back and forth daily to homes at Lake Winnebago were put to considerable inconvenience.

COLLECT 4 MILLION IN AUTO LICENSES

More Than 350,000 Automobiles and Trucks in State Up to June 30

Automobile license fees for the fiscal year ended June 30 amounted to $4,088,870, collection on 333,644 pleasure cars, 24,214 trucks, 4,813 motorcycles and 2,043 dealers, Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, has announced.

This is the largest return in the history of the automobile division of the secretary of state's office, exceeding the amount paid last year by more than $400,000. The number of pleasure cars already licensed is 13,000 more than the year 1921, according to Mr. Hall.

800 LICENSES DAILY

Cost of collecting the $4,088,870 in fees was $181,731, leaving $3,907,138 in the highway fund. Out of this amount 25 per cent is apportioned to counties for maintenance of county trunk highway systems. $168,000 is paid to the state highway department for operation costs and the balance goes into the maintenance fund of the state trunk highway system.

The increasing number of automobiles has resulted in a larger fund for maintenance of the Wisconsin highway system. The $4,088,870 collected during the fiscal year will be augmented by further funds received from new cars licensed through the remainder of the year. About 800 licenses are being sold daily, Mr. Hall says.

Funds collected from license fees may not be used for construction purposes generally, according to legislative enactment. Failure of the 1921 session to provide for meeting federal and highway appropriations caused some speculation concerning whether it would be necessary to use the license fee funds for that purpose.

It is believed the 1923 legislature can determine upon a means of raising the needed money shortly after it convenes in January, so that it will not be necessary to cut into the license fees for construction purposes.

ACTUAL FAMINE IN RUSSIA NOW ON WANE

Moscow—Hunger and undernourishment undoubtedly will prevail in many districts of Russia after the coming harvest, but actual famine is now on the wane and soon will have vanished except in isolated districts, according to reports which have reached the American Relief Administration in Moscow from its workers in the field.

From preliminary crop reports recently received in Moscow from the Volga, the Ukrainians and other present famine areas, it is deduced that nearly all of them will have sufficient food after the next harvest is gathered.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous, and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. STATE LIBRARY READY TO HELP LOCAL READERS

More Than 1,000 Books Have Been Obtained by Appleton Librarians

More than 131,750 free books were sent out into Wisconsin by the Wisconsin Free Library commission for the fiscal year ending July 1, according to an announcement made by C. E. Lester, secretary of the commission. The number of these books which were sent for by users of the Appleton Public Library is probably more than 1000 since requests for books which are not in the library here are made every day and sometimes more than one request for books is sent to the commission daily.

Several small libraries in Appleton have been secured by the Appleton library for various clubs in the city. Books on education, religion, and many text and reference books are requested by Appleton librarians. The commission supplies forms on which the requests are made.

MANY BOOKS TO SCHOOLS

According to the report of the commission more than 19,000 requests for books have come in. Text books, fiction, reference and all varieties of activities are covered in the commission's collection. The requests for the service have come from factories, clubs, churches, schools and professional men. The rural schools used more than 45,000 books during the year.

The demand for books in foreign languages is great, with German and Polish in greatest demand. The interest among the farmers is increasing and books now go wherever the mail goes. Traveling collections of 50 books are boxed and sent by freight to any community where two responsible citizens fill out the blank furnished by the commission. These books may be kept six months in the community.

The period for which books may be kept by the individual is three weeks with the privilege of renewal. The books sent for by clubs for their programs may be kept during the whole year, providing the club makes application early enough in the summer. October to April are the heaviest months for book demands, with an average of 13,000 a month.

New books are being purchased by the commission in preparation for the fall demand. The commission reports that there are few books lost in the service. If the commission cannot supply the necessary material, it refers the request to the University library and if that cannot supply the books, it is referred to the historical library. Books from the historical library may not be taken out of the library to which they are sent, and must be read by the person who requests them in that library.

YUKON WILL REMAIN WET FOR SEVERAL MORE YEARS

By Associated Press
Dawson, Yukon.—Thanks to special permission from the United States to ship liquor consigned for the Yukon through Alaska, this northland will remain wet at least two more years. Uncle Sam scared the folks up here with a recent order prohibiting the transportation of intoxicants through his territory enroute from one wet country to another. All roads to the Yukon lead through Alaska.

Is Your Back Giving Out?

Is a bad back making you miserable? Are you tortured with a dull, wearing backache, and sharp, stabbing pains? It's time then, you looked to your kidneys. A cold, a strain, or overwork has probably weakened your kidneys and brought on that nagging backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and kidney irregularities. Don't wait for some serious trouble. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Your home folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor.

Mrs. C. D. Ingenthron, 951 Morrison St., says: "I had kidney trouble and suffered from distressing backaches and pains across my loins. Red Cross Tells Service Men How To Get Insurance

Policies May Be Reinstated Any Time Before May 4, 1926, Circular Says

In carrying on the followup work of the county service census, Miss Ann Helm, executive secretary of the local Red Cross chapter, is mailing to those former service men who have dropped their government insurance, special insurance information. The circular was printed through the courtesy of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, which permitted the use of the multi-graph and donated the ink.

Miss Helm advises the veterans that if they allowed their policies to lapse they may reinstate them any time before May 4, 1926. If a veteran is drawing compensation and is disabled as a result of an injury or disease contracted in the military or naval service during the World War, but is not totally and permanently disabled, he may reinstate his lapsed or canceled yearly renewable term insurance by showing that he is not suffering from any other disability than that contracted in the service. He is required to pay back all back monthly premiums which would have been payable if the insurance had not lapsed, together with interest at 5 per cent, compounded annually, on each premium. If the applicant is in good health and his insurance has lapsed less than three months he must sign a statement that he is in good health and pay two months premium on the account of the insurance he wishes to reinstate. If it has lapsed for more than three months and less than six, he must have a short medical examination, besides paying two months premiums. If it has lapsed for more than six months he must have a full medical examination and pay two months premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate.

The six different forms of government insurance are: Ordinary life, 20-payment life, 30-payment life, 20-year endowment, 30-year endowment and endowment maturing at age of 62. The premiums differ in the amounts according to the form of insurance, but never increase from year to year. The same disability clause is attached to each. Total disability will terminate payment of premiums, and the insurance will be paid in installments of $5.75 monthly for each $1,000 of insurance as long as the insured person lives or is disabled. At death the insurance is paid the beneficiary in one lump sum or installments.

In an ordinary life policy the premiums are the lowest of the six forms but must be paid annually as long as the person lives or becomes disabled. In a twenty-payment life policy premiums are paid for 20 years or until prior death. At the end of 20 years the policy becomes fully paid up for life and the insurance is payable at death. A 30-payment life differs from the latter only in that payment is made for 30 years. A 20-year endowment policy insurance is payable after 20 years or at prior death. The 30-year endowment differs only in the number of years after which insurance is payable. In the sixth form of policy the premiums are paid until the age of 82 or prior death, and the insurance is payable when the policy matures.

Postal rates already have been reduced; direct telephone connection as well as radio will be used for the mutual exchange of pleasant words, and recently a group of Swedish newspapermen journey to Helsingfors, met their Finnish colleagues, and buried the hatchet.

The cleanest, daintiest, most refreshing hair invigorator in the world is Parisian Sage. If you have used it you know it—if you have not, you have missed a real treat, for it's a joy to use. The speedy manner in which it causes dandruff to disappear and scalp itching to really astoundingly stop, that's only one reason why hundreds of thousands of people use Parisian Sage. Another reason is that it stops hair from falling out and growing thin and furnishes healthy nourishment to the hair roots. And still another reason for its big sale by Schlitz Bros. Co. and in every drug store and at every toilet goods counter in the United States and Canada is the popular price. Everybody can afford to use Parisian Sage—everybody with hair or scalp troubles ought to use it.

SCARAMOUCHE

by Rafael Sabatini

Early in the morning they were awakened by a din of bells—the tolling of the sections ring the alarm. To their startled ears came later the rolling of drums and at one time they heard the sounds of a multitude on the march. Paris was rising.

The two women at the Hotel Plougastel still waited for the return of Rougane though now with everlessening hope. And Rougane did not return. The affair did not appear so simple to the father as to the son. Rougane the elder was rightly afraid to lend himself to such a piece of deception.

Late that night as M. de Kerca diou sat gloomily in his brother's library the pipe in which he had sought solace extinguished between his fingers, there came a sharp knocking at the door.

A slim young man in a dark olive surcoat stood at the threshold. He wore boots buckskins and a small sword and round his waist there was a tricolor sash, in his hat a tricolor cockade.

M. de Kerca diou startled in such an hour by this sudden apparition greeted Andre Louis in terms almost identical with those in which in that same room he had greeted him on a similar occasion once before.

"What do you want here sir?" "I am a representative. I have certain powers. I am very opportunely returning to Paris. Can I serve you where Rougane cannot?" Andre Louis should be placed in safety at once.

M. de Kerca diou surrendered unconditionally. He came over and took Andre Louis hand.

"About Alene," he asked. And himself answered his own question. "She must be brought out of Paris at once, before the place becomes a shambles. Young Rougane's plan is good."

"But Rougane the elder will not hear of it."

"You mean he will not do it on his own responsibility. But he has consented to do it on mine. I have left him a note over my signature to the effect that a safe-conduct for Mlle de Kerca diou to go to Paris and return is issued by him in compliance with orders from Jardiou took the sheet of paper that Andre Louis held out.

"If you send that to Paris by young Rougane in the morning," said Andre Louis. "Alene should be here by noon. If there is any other way in which I can serve you, you have but to name it whilst I am here."

"But there is, Andre. Did not Rougane tell you that there were others?"

"He mentioned Mme de Plougastel and her servant?" "Then why?" M. de Kerca diou broke off looking his question very solemnly. Andre Louis shook his head.

"That is impossible," he said. "M. de Kerca diou's mouth fell open in astonishment. 'Impossible!' he repeated. 'But why?'"

"Monsieur, I can do what I am doing for Alene without offending my conscience. But Mme de Plougastel is in very different case. Neither Alene nor any of these have been concerned in counter-revolutionary work. But Mme. Plougastel is the wife of M. le Comte de Plougastel, whom all the world knows to be an agent between the Court and the emigres."

"You must take the risk."

"I must," he echoed. "Why must I? Your reasons, monsieur?"

"I violate my words of honor, my oath, if I tell you." M. de Kerca diou turned away, wringing his hands. His condition visibly piteous, then turned again to Andre. "But in this extremity, in this desperate case, I shall have to tell you God help me, I have no choice. He will realize that when she knows Andre, my boy."

He paused again, a man afraid. He set a hand on his godson's shoulder, and to his increasing amazement Andre-Louis perceived that over those pale short sighted eyes there was a film of tears. "Mme de Plougastel is your mother."

Followed, for a long moment, utter silence. This thing that he was told was not immediately understood. When understanding came at last Andre-Louis' first impulse was to cry out. But he possessed himself and played the Stoic. He must ever be playing something.

"I see," he said, at last, quite coolly.

His mind was sweeping back over the past. Swiftly he reviewed his memories of Mme de Plougastel.

"I see," he said again, and added now, "Of course, any but a fool would have guessed it long ago."

He sat down abruptly, to conceal the too-revealing fact that his limbs were shaking. He pulled a handkerchief from his pocket to mop his brow, which had grown damp. And then, quite suddenly, he found him self weeping.

At the sight of those tears streaming silently down that face that had turned so pale, M. de Kerca diou came quickly across to him. He set down beside him and threw an arm affectionately over his shoulder.

"Andre, my poor lad," he murmured. "I... I was fool enough to think you had no heart."

"It is nothing, monsieur. I am tired out, and... and I have a cold in the head." And then, finding the part beyond his power, he abruptly threw it up, utterly abandoned all pretence. "Why... why has there been all this mystery?" he asked. "Was it intended that I should never know?"

"The reason my boy, is that you were born some three years after your mother's marriage with M. de Plougastel, some eighteen months after M. de Plougastel had been away with the army, and some four months before his return to his wife. It is a matter that M. de Plougastel has never suspected, and for grave family reasons must never suspect. That is why the utmost secrecy has been preserved. That is why none was ever allowed to know. Your mother came betimes into Brittany, and under an assumed name spent some months in the village of Mor eau. It was while she was there that you were born."

"Then who was my father?" "I don't know. She never told me. It was her secret, and I did not pry. It is not my nature, Andre."

"And now what will you do, Andre?" "It is beyond me. Decide it who you cannot."

"You mean that you refuse even now?" "I mean that I consent. Since I cannot decide what it is that I should do, it only remains for me to do what a son should do. Is it grotesque?"

"What difference should the knowledge make?" It is a pity to be called into existence by the mere announcement of relationship."

"It is a decision is with you Andre?" "Yes. It is beyond me. Decide it who you cannot."

"You mean that you refuse even now?" "I mean that I consent. Since I cannot decide what it is that I should do, it only remains for me to do what a son should do. Is it grotesque?"

CHAPTER VI
Into the late afternoon of that endless day of horror with its perpetual alarms its volleys of musketry rolling drums and distant muttering of angry multitudes, Mme de Plougastel and Alene sat waiting in that hand some house in the Rue du Paradis. It was no longer for Rougane they waited. They waited for whatever might befall.

Suddenly madame's young footman, Jacques, the most trusted of her servants burst into their presence unceremoniously with a scared face, bringing the announcement that a man who had just climbed over the garden wall professed himself a friend of madame's and desired to be brought immediately to her presence.

"Bring him in," she commanded breathlessly.

Jacques went out, to return presently accompanied by a tall man in a long, shabby overcoat and a wide brimmed hat that was turned down all round, and adorned by an enormous tricolor cockade. This hat he removed as he entered.

The young footman wondered what it was in the man's face, which was turned from him that should cause his mistress to cry out and recoil. Then he found himself dismissed abruptly by a gesture.

The newcomer advanced to the middle of the Salon, moving like a man exhausted and breathing hard. There he leaned against a table across which he confronted Mme de Plougastel. And she stood regarding him a strange horror in her eyes.

Resume Billiards
Changes in arrangement of the basement of the Y. M. C. A. have made it possible to restore to use a billiard table which has been stored for some time. The social room became too crowded following enlargement of the cafeteria and only two tables were placed at the disposal of members. The third can be used now by playing with shorter cues.

Adventures Of The Twins

HERE IS A NEW SLANT ON MARRIAGE PROBLEM

King Verdo's Palace
The white dove flew ahead and Nancy and Nick followed along the nice green path. The sky was blue and birds were singing everywhere. It did seem as though the spell of magic evil woven over the Twins by Twelve Toes, the wicked old Sorcerer, was broken.
At last they came in sight of a city which was just as green as Cobalt Town had been blue.
"Kor is Verdo's Ville," called back the dove. "That is where King Verdo of the green land lives. All of his subjects, called the Koraknots, have green beards, too. It shall soon be decided which is the handsomer, King Verdo of the green beard, king of the Koraknots, or King Indig of the blue hair, king of the Diddyvers."
The Twins thought that the white dove's voice was sadder than ever as he spoke.
"And the one who wins is to marry beautiful Princess Therna, isn't he?" asked Nancy.
"Yes," answered the dove in a voice so low they could scarcely hear. Funny people began to appear on the road—all of them staring hard at the strangers, with queer, greenish eyes, and having beards as green as wire-grass.
"Will you tell us which of the buildings is King Verdo's palace?" Nick asked one of the queer people.
"It's the handsomest house on the handsomest street in the handsomest city of the handsomest country in the world," was the modest reply. "Go right ahead. You can't mistake it."
Beauty is all a matter of opinion, but if any one had asked the Twins what they thought of Verdo's Ville when they came to it, they would have said it was the ugliest city in the world and that King Verdo's palace was the ugliest house in it.

NATURE FACTS AND FREAKS

A STRANGE BUG INSTINCT

By Prof. M. J. Elrod
The animal world is full of strange and peculiar habits, customs or instincts. Instinctive acts, or those performed under stimulus, unconsciously, and in a definite manner, are difficult to separate from those involing intelligence and under the animal control.

Among the three hundred thousand or more species of insects are many remarkable actions, classed as instinctive, unknown to the average unscientific reader.
One of the strangest instincts on record is found among the giant water bugs, electric light bugs of the boys, whose lives are spent in the water of streams and ponds until the adult winged stage is reached. Even as adults much of their life is spent in water.
The larger and more powerful female seizes the smaller male, glues to the back of her struggling mate an almost complete covering of eggs, and thus makes him do his share in preserving the species by protecting the eggs until they hatch.
The male with this mass of eggs sticking up endwise from his wings is a curious sight. Escape from the eggs he cannot. They prevent his easy movement through the water. He has to submit. Indignity though it may be, it seems to be a part of the price he pays for being a male.
When the eggs hatch he is again carefree, and the young insects shift for themselves.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is HARANGUE.
It's pronounced ha-rang, with accent on the last syllable. The first a is an a in ask, and the second a is short.
It means—when used as a noun: popular oration, a speech addressed to a large public assembly, a noisy, ranting speech; when used as a verb: to address earnestly or noisily.
It comes from the French "harangue" meaning, literally, a speech before a large multitude.
It's used like this—as a noun: "He delivered an impassioned harangue." as a verb: "He harangued the crowd."

LONG SKIRTS

If you are still holding out against the long skirt the chances are, for many of the new ones from Paris lack about an inch of the floor. At the French races, where styles are launched, all the fashion leaders wore long skirts.

Whom Shall Mollie Marry?

Chapter 12 — Between Strength and Sweets

Seeing a love rival in BILLY BARTON, architect, BEN WHEELER, manufacturer dismissed him. Wheeler loves MOLLY WAYNE, whom he has saved from an elopement with DONALD MANNING, actor, and later employed as chief of his office staff.

For a moment Molly stood too dazed to speak as the door banged behind Billy Barton.

A rush of thoughts confused her—pity and dismay for Billy; astonishment and anger that Ben Wheeler had allowed his sense of rivalry to prejudice his business dealings.

She held her feelings in check while she fumbled for a way of accusing Ben without compromising Billy. As usual, Ben said it for her. "Well, you needn't look so horrified, Molly. There are other architects. Unless you don't think so."

"Ben, you've no right to say that. And you are not sticking to your agreement. It was to be nothing but business, you remember. Yet I know I have something to do with your sudden dissatisfaction with Billy Barton."

"You drove me to it by philandering with Burton. When I opened the door yesterday you two were holding hands and—"

"How dare you, Ben Wheeler! I deny every atom of what you are saying. Shaking hands is not holding hands. You can believe me when I say not a word passed except about our work."

"Oh, shucks, Molly, don't try to make me believe all those blushes and smiles were over planking specifications and office space! You and Barton had been having a regular picnic. I saw it in your eyes."

"You are absurd and—unjust." Molly turned away biting her lips with vexation but knowing in her heart Ben had made a thrust into truth.

"Besides," she went on, anger flaring up again, "suppose I did have any such thought, is destruction the only way to complete?"

"Perhaps, not, in business—though it's fully half the job. You create your product with one hand and kill off rivals with the other. In love, my plant and what I am are the creative side of my courtship."

"The rest is a matter of removing obstacles. Admit it or not, Bill Barton is my rival. The least I can do is not to let him prosper through my help."

Molly was silent an instant, thinking of the hardness of the otherwise likable man before her.

"Billy will take care of himself," she said slowly, "as far as your agreement goes, but you have no right, Ben, to bring a personal affair into the Chamber of Commerce competition. Your being one of the judges doesn't give you the right to prejudice the others, or to vote against Billy's plans—if they are good."

"Molly, the trouble with you is"—Ben came over and stood close to her, his strong hand gripping the table edge, his voice well-controlled but hard with the intensity of his feeling—"that you can't see that ruthlessness is sometimes right."

"You can't build without destroying something. I love you, and I want you. I'm going to have you. If someone blocks the path, what should I do—meekly stand aside and surrender?"

"Would you feel flattered by that? Would you respect me? Don't you want a man who isn't afraid to use his strength? Or do you want a—"

"Don't Manning? Do you want a man who can do things and build things? Or one who can draw pictures in the air or on paper? Do you want strength—or sweets? You've got to choose. You can't have everything. Come—answer!"

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

The honeymoon isn't as conspicuous as it used to be and modern couples pride themselves if no one can tell they are newlyweds.

However, the Thascallans haven't a chance of being inconspicuous. Part of the marriage ceremony is the shaving of the entire head of both the bride and the groom. That tells the world

VOILE FOR YOUTH

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

True, smartness is more easily attained in silk and wool fabrics, but youth, daintiness, becomingness, and attractiveness are all possible with the sheer summer materials, especially voile, when batiste and dainty lace make the trimming.

Tucks are much favored in summer materials because the make division lines possible and at the same time serve as ornament.

A person having generous proportions and a long waist may use this design to excellent advantage, employing two, instead of three tiers of tucks and arranging the tiers so that the upper one comes below the hip line and the lower one above the hem line.

A straight skirt and plain kimono blouse constitute the pattern. The center back of the blouse and the center front of the vest are cut on a lengthwise fold of material. The opening is arranged at the left side front. Insertion may be substituted for the embroidery on the vest portion and either a batiste or voile sash may be used. Embroidered batiste is edged with Val lace for the collar and cuffs, and tiny pearl buttons in groups outline the blouse and skirt panels.

The white straw hat is ornamented with petals of ribbon and a on-loop and one-end taffeta bow at the left side.

He said the docks are surrounded by a double line of pickets. Before going to Ohio the boat was engaged in hauling iron ore.

INTERLAKE TEAM PLAYS AT KIMBERLY NEXT SUNDAY

Pulpmakers Will Try To Overcome Evil Jinx

Local Squad Showing Much Enthusiasm Over Kimberly Contest

Next Sunday will see the Kimberly and Interlake County teams opposing each other on the diamond in a base ball battle at Kimberly. These teams finished the first half of the season on opposite ends of the average column with Kimberly on top but that first half is now among the annals of County league baseball history and the Interlake take no stock in the saying that history repeats itself, at least not in this case.

Manager Gregory and his baseball crew are showing a great deal of enthusiasm over the coming contest with the erstwhile leaders and express confidence that the tables can be turned in the remaining schedule of the season. With the addition of Boyle and plenty of pep and practice the Interlake look good and will make the opposition work for its runs next Sunday.

Kimberly's outfit is feeling strong and confident after its brilliant record of no defeats in nine games. The same lineup that won these games will be used against the Interlake Sunday with hopes that the old horse shoe does not fail. Pocan, to whom much of the credit for Kimberly's victory belongs, will pitch Sunday. A good sized crowd of Appleton fans is expected to follow the Interlake team to Kimberly Sunday as the County league has created much enthusiasm with the stellar brand of baseball that has been exhibited.

DALE GETTING SET FOR FREEDOM GAME

Manager Seifert of the Dale squad is constantly trying to improve his team and expects to have a real winner in the field before long. He attributes the loss of two games at Black Creek to breaks in luck and figures if he can shake the jinx his squad will up among the winners.

Usual team against Dale. This squad was good enough to win a tie for second place with Hortonville which indicates it possesses considerable strength.

Dale is primed for the first game of the second half of the Outagamie County baseball league schedule on its home diamond Sunday afternoon with Freedom as the opposition. Freedom won from Dale at their last meeting.

"CHIEF" WILLIAMS TO BE VALLEY LEAGUE UMPIRE

"Chief" Williams, recently released is reported to have been taken on by the Green Bay Valley league team. President Kluwin is one of the circuit's umpires. Williams is a former WI league player.

CARDINALS WIN ON 25TH HOMER BY ROG. HORNSBY

St. Louis—Hornsby's twenty-fifth homer of the season with two men on base in ninth inning enabled the Cardinals to defeat Boston, 7 to 6, on Wednesday. Singles by Schultz and Smith preceded Hornsby's circuit drive. Powell of the Braves hit a homer in the third inning. Score: Boston, 0 1 1 0 0 0 4 0—6 10 1; St. Louis, 1 0 0 0 3 0 0 3—7 9 2. Batteries: Miller and O'Neil Haines, North and Ansmith, Clemens.

COOPER BLANKS PHILS
Pittsburgh—Pittsburg defeated Philadelphia 2 to 0, on Wednesday for the sixth straight time. It was Cooper's second shutout game against the visitors. Carey's single and Bigbee's triple scored the first run in the fifth inning while Thorne's triple and Rohwer's double brought in the second run. Score: Philadelphia, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 6 0; Pittsburgh, 0 0 0 1 1 0 0—2 8 1. Batteries: Hubbell G. Smith and Henline Cooper and Gooch.

GIANTS COP 5 TO 2
Cincinnati—The Giants bunched their hits to better advantage than the Reds on Wednesday and won the first game of the series 5 to 2. Nehf allowed ten hits but was strong with men on bases and received fine support. Meusel's single Young's long triple to right and a fielder's choice gave the visitors their first two runs in the second inning and they were never headed. The Reds threw away two chances to score in the early innings by poor judgement on the bases. The score: Cincinnati, 5 2 0 0 1 0 1 1—5 9 0; New York, 0 2 0 0 1 0 1 1—3 9 0. Cincinnati: Nehf and Snyder, Lugue, Markle and Hargrave.

CUBS BEAT ROBINS
Chicago—Osborne, who replaced Cheever under a handicap started the rally in the sixth inning which resulted in the Cubs winning the first game of the series 8 to 6, on Wednesday. Osborne bunt out a hit and went to third on Smith's wild throw. T Griffith netted the Cubs' error run and forced Smith to the showers. Marmah and Deatur prevented further scoring. Osborne pitched a steady game. Score: Chicago, 8 2 0 0 0 1 0 0—6 10 4; Cincinnati, 3 2 0 0 3 0 0 0—3 11 0. Batteries: Cadore, Smith, Cheever, Osborn and De Berry, Cheaves, Osborn and O'Farrell.

APPLETON TEAM GETS NEW FIELDER FOR SUNDAY

It is reported that the Appleton Valley league team has taken on an Indian player in the name of Charles Bonish from the Upper Peninsula. Bonish will play in the outfield in Sunday's game against Oshkosh at Brandt park. He is said to be a good fielder and hitter.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Fans in the valley will watch with interest the results of games between the Summers Bedmakers and the Green Bay leaguers next week. The Kenosha club is one of the strongest in the mid west circuit while the Bays are about as good as any in the Valley wheel. It is the prevailing opinion that the class of ball playing in the valley is below the grade in the mid west. Next week will tell the tale.

Tris Speaker's Indians have finally rounded into form and right now they are in the midst of a winning streak. The Cleveland team still stands a chance to have something to say about the pennant possession and if the hurlers continue to show their real form the Indians may be up there yet. Taking the team, man for man, Speaker's tribe on paper looks just about as good as any club in the American league.

Willie Kamm Frisco third sacker, is getting the big league habit even before he has even caught a glimpse of major league baseball. The White Sox bought Kamm from the San Francisco club for a hundred thousand. The purchase was a sensation in the baseball world. Now, young Mr. Kamm has turned bolshevik and announced that he will retire from baseball if he doesn't get part of the $100,000 the Darned Hose paid for him.

Valley league magnates are laying plans early to enlarge the circuit to an eight club wheel next year. This is a move in the right direction and the Saturday Sunday schedule should prove popular. What's more, she boyman and Manitowoc would be splendid additions to the baseball organization.

JACK MALONE IS BEATEN BY CLEVELAND PUGILIST

Columbus, O.—Johnny Karr, Cleveland, won the judges' decision in a twelve round bout with Jack Malone, St. Paul here Tuesday night. Malone is out for both middleweight and welterweight titles.

Premier National League Catcher

WALTER SCHMIDT

BY BILLY EVANS
A high class veteran backstop is generally regarded as absolutely essential for a major league club that aspires to win a pennant.

Last year Walter Schmidt of the Pittsburgh club ranked first in the National League averages covering the catches. Sometimes the averages do not tell the truth but in Schmidt's case his ranking was regarded as well deserved. At the bat he hit close to 300.

This story is to be the tale of a major league club that seems to be doing very nicely without the aid of the star backstop.

Last winter Schmidt and the Pittsburgh club made a deal for a star catcher is always much in demand, and perhaps Schmidt figured that if he failed to agree on terms he would be traded.

When stars differ with their clubs and hold out, things often happen that way. The player is traded to some club willing to satisfy the star. Owner Dreyfus of the Pittsburgh club and Manager Gibson took a definite stand in the Schmidt matter, they stood pat. As a result Schmidt is still out in the cold. I rather thought the absence of Schmidt would seriously injure the chances of the Pirates. However, such doesn't seem to be winning. Pittsburgh goes merrily along, winning a majority of games and always staying within striking distance of the league leading giants.

During the past month I have discussed the case of Schmidt with a number of star National League players, as well as several managers from that organization. All of them seem to hold the same opinion in the matter. The consensus of those I talked with runs about as follows:

"Schmidt is a great catcher. Any major league club could use him to advantage. Ordinarily his absence would be severely felt, the personnel of the Pittsburgh pitching staff, however, is such, that the club is getting by very nicely without Schmidt."

"If the Pittsburgh pitchers were a lot of young fellows, with a tendency to be wild and always in need of experienced coaching, Schmidt would be greatly missed."

"Gooch, who has been doing most of the catching, is a fine receiver and thrower. He lacks experience, but any thinking necessary is supplied by the veteran pitchers."

GOOD PITCHING WINS TENTH GAME FOR CLEVELAND

Coveleski's Stellar Mound Work Downs Washington — Had Good Support

Washington, D. C.—Coveleski was master of the situation on Wednesday and Cleveland defeated Washington in the opening game of the series, 4 to 1. The visitors supported Coveleski faultlessly in the field. It was the third consecutive victory for the Indians. Score: Cleveland, 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 0—4 7 0; Washington, 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 6 2. Batteries: Coveleski and O'Neil, Brillheart, Francis and Gharney.

TRAILING THE TEAMS

Cleveland, separated by only six and a half games from the league leading St. Louis club as the result of a winning streak of ten games, Thursday loomed as a fifth entrant in the already spectacular American league pennant hunt. Coveleski twirled the Indians to their tenth straight over Washington, 4 to 1. All five contenders were bunched a trifle closer as a result of the Browns' defeat at the hands of the Phils and the eighth straight victory of Cobb's Tigers over the Yanks, 5 to 1, while the White Sox continued their winning drive by trouncing Boston, 3 to 0. The Athletics owe their 6 to 3 victory over the league leaders to the terrific hitting of Tillie Walker who crushed out two homers and took the American league clouting lead from Ken Williams of the Browns with a total of 23 four base blows. It was Walker's tenth this month and the third time within the same period that he has hit a brace of homers in a single game.

Adolph Rettig, a sandlot recruit, held the Browns to nine hits in his major league debut. Roger Hornsby pulled victory out of the fire for Rickey's men with a homer in ninth that scored 3 runs and beat the Braves, 7 to 6. Nehf's pitching enabled the Giants to defeat Cincinnati in the first game of the series, 5 to 2, Cooper of the Pirates shut out Philadelphia 2 to 0 and Brooklyn lost to Chicago 8 to 6 after getting away to an early lead.

COMMISSIONER AGAINST DEMPSEY-WILLS BOUT

New York — Notwithstanding any private assurances that Tex Rickard may have as to the attitude of the Jersey political powers toward the Dempsey-Wills fight, the Jersey boxing commission on Monday came out against the bout.

Commissioner McNair said he thought the champion and the negro challenger had better settle their argument elsewhere, adding that he would do anything he could to prevent their meeting in his jurisdiction. The commissioner's statement may have been made for an immediate political purpose, however, as Rickard is in very close touch with the Jersey administration and his plans are to hold the fight in the Rickard bowl at Boyle's place next summer.

Chicago—Chick Evans defeated two former golf champions in one day when he downed Davy Herron and Willie Hunter Wednesday.

PIRATES TAKE ON VET OUTFIELDER

Pittsburg—President Dreyfus of the Pirates Tuesday night announced the release of Pitch Hollingsworth to Minneapolis club of the American association for outfielder Reb Rus sell.

A big wad of money was also given to the Minneapolis club, though the amount was not disclosed. Russell is to report immediately, and will go east with the Pirates next Monday night.

SOMETHING NEW FOR SUMMER!

The right field has been a weak spot on the Pirate team all season a number of young players having failed to fill George Whitted's shoes. Russell is the home run king of the American association, having polled out thirty four baggers last season. So far this year he has made seventeen homers. Russell formerly was a pitcher for the Chicago White Sox but his arm gave out and he was forced to give up pitching.

DIRECTORS' MEET DECIDES AGAINST SPECIAL PLAYERS

Hiring Men For One Game Only is Banned by Valley League Magnates

Oshkosh—Baseball clubs in the Fox River Valley league will not be permitted to load up in any game with special players hired for the occasion but must retain the same men who constituted their respective lineups in the game last Sunday. That point was definitely decided at the meeting of the directors, managers and umpires here Monday.

MUST OBSERVE ALL RULES

President John F. Kluwin of the league stated here Wednesday that no changes will be made in the lineups of any team except for good and sufficient reasons, and then only after the application has been in the hands of the president, to be approved by the president, at least three days before the game. Four of the clubs have observed the rulings of the league to the letter in that matter, the president said, but two others planned to do otherwise. President Kluwin stated at the meeting that either all of the rules and agreements of the league must be observed to the letter or tossed away entirely. The directors voted to continue with the present agreements and to observe them strictly.

WERE NOT GOOD SPORTS

The matter of the trouble at Menasha Sunday, was thrashed out at the meeting. The whole affair was caused by unsportsmanlike fans who bet on the game and evidently could not stand to lose. "It is absolutely against the rules of this league to permit gambling on the games. It would be difficult for us to regulate it, however," President Kluwin said. "Men who want to win by hook or crook are not sportsmen and they are the ones who cause the trouble. There was nothing the matter with the umpiring in that game and if fans are not sports enough to take their loss quietly they should refrain from betting."

Lawrence Has No Fear Of Normal In Football

Normal President Insinuates Lawrence is Afraid of Oshkosh Team

Oshkosh Normal athletic men seem a bit put out over the fact that they have no football game with Lawrence college on their schedule for 1922. In a statement on the subject President H. A. Brown of the Oshkosh Normal says that "since the Normal school defeated Lawrence in football last fall, Lawrence has persistently refused to accept a game with our school, although they have had an open date on the day which Oshkosh Normal desired for a contest." He further stated that the Normal team is willing to go to Appleton for the contest.

The Oshkosh Northwest team goes so far as to insinuate that the McChesney's Blue and White team is afraid to meet the Normalites in a game this fall.

True it is that the Normal team defeated a squad of Lawrence second string men by a score of 3 to 0 last fall. The tally for the Oshkosh team was made possible by a fumble on the part of one of McChesney's men but the Oshkosh players did not succeed in getting the ball beyond the center of the field more than once.

This game, however, was no indication of the Lawrence team's strength for McChesney had a number of subs in the game, playing only four of his regulars. The Normal game has no bearing on the conference title and Lawrence had played the Wisconsin university team the previous week so the first string men were laid off for a rest.

CRY OF FEAR RIDICULOUS

It is absurd to think that a football team such as Lawrence had last year and will have again this fall would fear a Normal school outfit. Law rence plays for the Little Five conference title and works toward that end all through the season. The games with the Normal teams are mere drill contests for the Blue and White and whether such a game is lost does not bother the coach. He is after getting and keeping his outfit in shape for the games that really amount to something.

The date referred to by President Brown is October 7, which is set for the conference game with Carroll college. Coach McChesney went so far as to try to postpone this conference affair in order to gratify the wishes of the Normalites but was unsuccessful as Carroll is to meet Marquette on the only other date that Lawrence could play them. Lawrence has never and will never backwater for a Normal school football team.

CAN HAVE GAME

The fact of the matter is that the Normalites can have a game if they really want it. Lawrence has a date when the team will be idle and would relish taking on the Gold and White. That date is October 14. No conference contest or other important game is scheduled for that day but the Lawrence athletic management cannot arrange its football schedule to suit a Normal school and if the Oshkosh team really wants to play a game with McChesney's team when they are all there, here is their chance.

The Lawrence football schedule for 1922 includes the strong Hamlin college team from Minneapolis. Hamlin won the Minnesota conference title last year.

Los Angeles—Walter Miller and Johnny Meyers, champions of the middleweight wrestling championship, signed articles for a match which will probably be held August 3 in Los Angeles.

LABOR MEETING TO TAKE UP SUPPORT OF FARMER LEAGUE

Expect Convention Will Back LaFollette in Race for U. S. Senate

By Associated Press

Oshkosh—The attitude of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, which has proposed that the organization throw its support to Farmer-Labor league being created throughout the state to engage in the campaign proceeding in the September primaries, is to be determined Thursday by delegates to the federation's convention here.

Recommendation of the committee on the organizers report that organized labor exert its influence politically through a coalition of forces with the farmers, was made to the convention. A contest on the floor in opposition to the committee proposal is looked for when a vote is asked. Socialist members are expected to ask that labor endorse its candidates and principles rather than subscribe to the creation of a new political organization.

The Farmer-Labor league, organized two years ago preceding the primary election, would be actively revived should the convention accept the proposal made to it. This is looked for by the leaders, who throughout the convention have expressed the opinion that the time has come when labor could not remain out of politics as an organized group. Indorsement of the candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette for re-nomination to the United States senate on the Republican ticket is looked for by the convention Thursday when it acts on a resolution expressing labor's support. All speakers from labor organizations have appealed to the workers to actively engage in the present campaign of the senior senator who was generally referred to as "labor's best friend."
